

GOVERNOR SAYS LINDBERGH CASE STILL UNSOLVED

Does Not Plan To Give Condemned Man Reprieve

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 20.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman said tonight the failure of Samuel S. Leibowitz, New York attorney, to "get something" from Bruno Richard Hauptmann convinced him "more than ever" that the Lindbergh kidnapping case was unsolved.

The governor, who on January 16 gave Hauptmann a 30-day reprieve, said he did not plan another.

A formal statement issued tonight by the governor's office said: "Asked the question 'do the statements of Mr. Leibowitz influence your position that the Lindbergh case is still unsolved?' Governor Hoffman said: 'No. I am more convinced than ever. I had hoped that Mr. Leibowitz, in almost nine hours of questioning, might have been able to get something from Hauptmann if he had anything to tell.'"

A futile attempt to wring a death house confession from Hauptmann by stamping on his mind the horror of death in the electric chair was made yesterday. It was disclosed today.

Through the eyes of Samuel S. Leibowitz, New York criminal lawyer, the condemned man "saw" the chair, six paces from cell No. 8, and just beyond the little door which leads to the execution chamber.

Hauptmann paled, the person who described the episode of the interview said, and his hands revealed his nervous state of mind. But scared as he obviously was, he did not change the story he has told since his arrest. And in a short time he recovered his calm.

When his chief defense counsel, C. Lloyd Fisher, called upon him today to tell him a new death date has been fixed for the week of March 30, he gave no indication of mental distress. Fisher said afterwards he did not appear surprised. His voice did not change. He said he "knew it was coming"—his January 16 reprieve expired last Saturday—and kept on talking.

Then he said he regretted that Leibowitz was apparently of the same impression as he was before.

"He thought he had pretty thoroughly convinced Leibowitz of his innocence," Fisher said. "He arrived at that conclusion because of certain remarks Leibowitz made to him."

Colonel McMullen Is Found Guilty

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Colonel Joseph I. McMullen, legal adviser to the war department for 15 years, today was found guilty on two of four charges of "dishonorable conduct" by an army court martial.

He was sentenced by the court to be reduced in rank to the bottom of the list of officers of his grade; to be reprimanded by the reviewing authorities; and to forfeit $150 a month for 24 months.

This sentence, read by Major General Upton Birnie, chief of the cavalry and president of the court, makes the colonel the lowest ranking colonel in the army.

United States Accepts Greek Debt Payment

Agree To Pay 35 Percent Of Coupon Value Of Payments Due May And Nov. 10

By Lloyd A. Lehrbas, Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—A Greek offer of actual cash in part payment of war debts—the first from a defaulting European debtor nation in more than two years—has been accepted by the United States.

Authoritative sources said tonight the state department has sent a note to Demetrios Sicilianos, the Greek minister, expressing willingness to credit any payments made to Greece's account if they were "without prejudice to the contractual rights of the United States."

Finland has met its debt installments promptly and in full, but other European nations who owe the United States $12,437,000.33 have defaulted on all recent payments.

Greece, in an offer made to the state department through Sicilianos, and transmitted to the treasury for study before action was taken, agreed to pay 35 per cent of the coupon value of payments due May 10 and November 10. This would amount to $76,272 of the $127,920 due on each date.

The $142,544 would be in partial payment of 1936 interest on the "four per cent loan of 1929," amounting to $12,167,000, which was used in financing resettlement of nearly 3,000,000 Greeks in their homeland from Turkish territory after the World War.

House Prepares For Townsend Investigation

California Will Have A Major Role In The Inquiry

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Dr. F. E. Townsend and the man who will head the House investigation of his old age pension movement agreed today on one point—the California will have a major role in the inquiry.

A spokesman for the co-founder of the plan to pay $200 a month to the aged wired a request that the investigation be delayed for two weeks so that Townsend, who is ill, could be on hand.

Representative Bell (D-Mo.), who will be chairman of the committee of eight, which Speaker Byrnes plans to appoint tomorrow, issued a statement that the committee will want to interrogate Dr. Townsend, characterized by his followers as one of the three great men in American history.

The other two, Bell added, were "George Washington and Abraham Lincoln."

Byrnes said he was consulting Representative Snell (R-Y), minority leader on possible Republican members of the bi-partisan investigating committee. The speaker said the list should be ready tomorrow.

Vanderbilt Case To Supreme Court

New York, Feb. 20.—(P)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt today carried her fight to obtain sole custody of her daughter Gloria to the United States supreme court.

The move was disclosed when the appellate division signed an order to permit the county clerk to unseal the record of the case to certify it for presentation to the court at Washington.

Under terms of a supreme court order, upheld by the appellate division at Albany, Mrs. Vanderbilt was given custody of her 11-year-old daughter only on week-ends.

Principal custody was given to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, aunt of the child.

The child recently figured in stories of kidnapping scares which later were proved false.

Deneen May Run For U. S. Senate

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(P)—Charles S. Deneen, former Republican senator from Illinois, said today that within a day or two he would determine whether he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination to his old post.

He met today with his organization, to name a ticket of candidates for county offices, after a reported failure to effect a coalition with either the C. Wayland Brooks or H. Wallace Caldwell groups.

Deneen's entry would increase to five the number of candidates seeking the senatorial nomination. Otto F. Glenn, former senator, Orville J. Taylor, Chicago attorney; Oscar Nelson, Chicago, former state auditor, and former congressman W. E. Hull of Peoria have announced their candidacies.

ALEXANDER CONFIRMED
Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—The Senate today confirmed Wilford S. Alexander of Meriden, Conn., as federal alcohol administrator. He succeeds Frank C. Hoyt of New York, resigned.

FLYER DENIES REDFERN FOUND IN 'JUNGLES'

Not Acquainted With Reporter Who Gave Story To Press

Georgetown, British Guiana, Feb. 20.—(P)—Another unsupported tale of the finding of Paul Redfern, long-lost aviator, in the jungles of Brazil, brought action by two governments and a denial by one of the purported rescuers today.

Alfred Harred, reporter, declared through his newspaper, Banner of Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, that he and Art Williams, former United States army flier, had found Redfern, crippled, in an Indian village in the Tumuc Humac mountains.

Williams, who has been making flights into the interior, denied the story saying: "I do not know Harred and he most certainly did not accompany me on my recent search."

The state department at Washington cabled instructions to the American consul at Port of Spain, Trinidad, to investigate Harred's story. The Brazilian foreign office asked its boundary commission, working in the northeastern jungles, to determine the authenticity of the report that Redfern is alive.

Williams, who is well known in the Guianas through years of flying his own air service, declared that he went into the interior accompanied by three natives.

"I took two Djukos (Surinam Bush negroes) with me to act as interpreters and a Red Indian who had given us certain new evidence," he said. "We made a new contact with 10 new Indian villages and collected a great deal of information."

"The most that was established is that Redfern did not land in that area."

"If I had found Redfern's plane, it would have been a simple matter to take off the identification plate as evidence. Most of the evidence I have is in photographs."

Harred claimed that Redfern, who disappeared in 1927 on an attempt to fly alone from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio De Janeiro, was held in awe by an Indian tribe.

Says Soil Erosion Greatest Problem Of Farmer Today

H. H. Bennett Claims We Have 50,000,000 Acres Of Ruined Land

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—The Illinois Farmers' Institute was told today by a government expert that water and wind erosion of the soil constitutes the greatest problem facing agriculture.

H. H. Bennett of the department of agriculture asserted, "we have 50,000,000 acres of ruined land, another 50,000,000 nearly ruined, another 100,000,000 acres has lost the larger part of its top soil and still another 10,000,000 has erosion actively under way."

He emphasized the seriousness of the situation with the statement that "nature requires from 400 to 500 years for the processing of a single inch of top soil."

"Three billion tons of rich soil wash out of the fields of the United States annually, carrying with them 53,000,000 tons of phosphorus, nitrogen and potash," Bennett continued.

"In a single rain in California, 525,000 tons of soil were swept away in two hours and it undid work which nature took 100,000 years to perfect. So serious is the problem in that state that one city—Ventura—has water pipes, once laid underground, now suspended in midair on cables."

Bennett, who had traveled all over the world studying erosion problems, told of seeing wash gullies in China 600 feet deep.

Elgin Hospital Is Overcrowded

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(P)—Overcrowded conditions at the Elgin State Hospital, Dr. Charles F. Read, managing officer, told the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene last night, were due to the presence of many patients pronounced cured.

Their families have no room for them at home, Dr. Read said, "they are not called for, and our quarters stay overcrowded. The situation has existed since 1930."

Dr. Read said that though a paroled patient "may occasionally get into the headlines charged with an atrocity," most of the cured patients sent to their homes offer no danger to their communities.

BULL COOLS OFF
Comstock, Neb., Feb. 20.—(P)—The Angus bull of Rean Morse, Comstock farmer, fell into a cistern 18 feet deep. There was only a foot of water in the cistern and a man was lowered to tie ropes around the animal to haul him out.

The bull attacked his rescuer but failed to injure him. Morse let the bull cool off for a day in the cistern and finally removed him with the aid of a hay stacker block and tackle.

Florence Walton Sues Financier For $100,000

Claims Boston Man Promised To Reimburse Her For Investment Losses

New York, Feb. 20.—(P)—Frederick H. Prince, Sr., Boston financier, was sued for $100,000 today by Florence Walton, dancer and war-time Broadway star.

Miss Walton, now the wife of Pierre Colombier, French motion picture director, charges Prince with failing to keep a promise to reimburse her for losses incurred through investments allegedly made on his recommendation.

She also charges he promised her, but neglected to pay, $100,000 for the world rights to her autobiography if she would write it.

In her complaint, Miss Walton said that she met Prince in Chicago in 1913, and that he took a fatherly interest in her.

Acting on his advice, she said, she invested money in a number of companies in which he was interested. She said he guaranteed she would suffer no losses.

When she conferred with him in Paris in 1933 about her holdings, she continued, he told her he would make good any losses she sustained.

At the same time he suggested that she write her autobiography, she related, telling her it would be of value not only for publication but also for production as a screen play in which she might appear.

The $100,000 was to serve the dual purpose of paying for the autobiography and covering any losses she might incur through her investments, Miss Walton's complaint said.

Bullets Create Panic In Common Pleas Courtroom

Man On Trial For Robbery Threatens To Blow Up Building

Cleveland, Feb. 20.—(P)—Bullets created panic in a common pleas courtroom today as detectives shot Clayton J. Clausen, 30, on trial for robbery, after he shouted that he was going to blow up the building.

Judge Samuel H. Silbert was conducting the trial before a jury as Clausen suddenly jumped to his feet and brandished a bottle.

"This is nitroglycerine," he shouted. "I am going to die. You might as well all die with me. I am going to blow up the building."

Detective Sergeant Patrick J. Ryan and Detective Alfred Meier drew their guns and fired. Ryan said he shot the hand that held the bottle. Meier said he shot Clausen in the arm and leg. Clausen fell near the trial table.

Swiftly the entrances became jammed and many sought to flee. Women screamed. A woman juror fell on the railing of the jury box in an attempt to get out and injured herself slightly.

Judge Silbert rapped continuously for order, which was soon restored. At the hospital attendants said Clausen would recover.

D. L. Cowles, police explosives expert, said the bottle contained a harmless mixture of ammonia and water. Clausen told police that someone had sold it to him for nitroglycerine.

Roosevelt May Submit His Tax Program Soon

Ordinary Internal Revenue Collections Increase During January

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—A broad hint that President Roosevelt might submit his tax program to Congress next week coincided tonight with a treasury report of January revenue reflecting continued business gains.

Ordinary internal revenue collections last month jumped $38,626,126 over January, 1935, although the shut-off of processing taxes through the Supreme Court's AAA decision brought a net drop of $10,600,000.

Treasury officials who have been studying corporation reports for 1935 look for an increase of at least 25 per cent in income tax collections next month, when first quarter payments based on last year's business will fall due.

While the White House remained silent on progress of the broad study ordered into possible government savings as well as sources of new revenue, Congress was given the hint of action next week.

Representative Treadway (R-Mass.) ranking minority member of the ways and means committee, had remarked in the House that the tax bill probably would be dumped in the legislators' lap at the end of the session.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—Accidents caused 5,905 deaths—an average of 16 daily in Illinois last year. Director Frank J. Jirka of the state health department reported today.

Motor vehicle mishaps led the list with 2,336 fatalities, 239 less than in 1934.

He listed other accidental fatality causes as: Falls 1,204, burns 283, drownings 231, cold, heat and lightning 129, industrial and agricultural machinery 80, railroads and street cars not involving automobiles 330, $1,300,000.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET IN PEORIA FRIDAY, MAY 1

The Official Call Will Probably Be Sent Out Today

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—The Republican state central committee at a meeting here today voted to hold the party's state convention at Peoria on May 1, the same day the Democrats hold their meeting at Springfield.

Chairman John H. Searing said the official call will be issued tomorrow.

The only other action was adoption of a resolution declaring that the Illinois news bureau now has no connection with the state committee, which organized it at Springfield in 1933.

The resolution said the news bureau is now operated by a corporation and has disseminated news of a bi-partisan nature criticizing Republicans and Democrats alike.

Champaign, Decatur and Springfield also asked for the state convention, but the committee voted overwhelmingly to accept Peoria's invitation.

The law requires the political conventions to be held May 1, but permits the chairman to fix the site.

Members of the committee said that since the burning of the State Arsenal Springfield did not have sufficient accommodations for two political conventions the same day.

William R. Allen of Peoria said the Peoria Armory would be furnished for the Republicans. The Illinois News Bureau, operated by Charles Porter of Chicago, was recently reopened after being closed several months because of lack of funds.

R. S. Jones of Flora introduced the resolution declaring the committee "has no interest in or connection with" the News Bureau.

Governor Horner Turns Fight Into A New Channel

Endorses Candidacy Of John E. Cassidy For Lieut. Governor

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—Governor Horner turned into new channels today his fight against the Kelly-Nash Chicago Democratic organization, endorsing the candidacy of John E. Cassidy of Peoria for lieutenant governor against State Treasurer John Stelle.

The endorsement was said by Daniel S. Sullivan, secretary of the state central committee, to be the forerunner of alignment by the governor's forces with candidates in the April 14 primary against Edward J. Barrett, seeking renomination as auditor, and John C. Martin, candidate for treasurer.

Neither Sullivan or the governor disclosed who would be supported in opposition to Barrett or Martin. They indicated, however, that no candidates would be put up against Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes or Attorney General Otto Kerner.

Previously the governor and Sullivan have confined their open fight to attacking Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, Cook county Democratic Chairman Patrick A. Nash and the "regular organization" candidate for governor, Dr. Herman N. Bunsden of Chicago.

If a candidate is selected by the Horner forces to oppose Martin it would be an added breach to a comparative new political split. Until last month Martin and the governor were close friends, personally as well as politically.

At the time the Kelly-Nash slate was named the governor endorsed the candidacy of Martin along with Hughes and Kerner.

Birth Rate Higher: Death Rate Lower

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—A higher birth rate and lower death rate in Illinois during 1935 epitomizes "fundamental social improvements," Director Frank J. Jirka of the state health department said today.

The birth rate of 14.2 per 1,000 persons—highest since 1932—indicates a "better mental attitude," he said.

Dr. Jirka interpreted the death rate decline to 10.8 per 1,000 population as an indication of "basically good health" and more medical service.

Infant deaths fell to the unprecedented level of 46 per 1,000 births while the maternal death rate of 4.8 per 1,000 births never was lower, he reported.

Convicts Tell How Liquor, Narcotics and Gambling Figured in Prison Life

By Earl Aykroid, Joliet, Ill., Feb. 20.—(P)—Members of a citizens' committee investigating Illinois penal institutions today heard a dozen convicts tell how gambling, liquor and narcotics figured in Stateville penitentiary life in former years.

Assistant State's Attorney Emmett Moynihan of Chicago and Warden Roy Best of the Colorado State prison reported they also had been informed by inmate witnesses that monitored prisoners had controlled the institution in the 1910-1935 period.

They said the funds were alleged to have been brought in by guards who received a percentage and that one of the unnamed informants estimated convicts had as much as $15,000 at one time.

"One convict told us he had seen a poker session in progress in one of the cells with $1,500 in the game," Moynihan disclosed. "Another said that until a year ago the convict gangs actually ran the prison."

Moynihan quoted one felon as saying "it was the usual thing for convicts to carry large sums of money, and not uncommon for prisoners to have bank rolls of hundreds of dollars." He added:

"Gambling in cells was controlled by 'big shots,' who were also able to dispense favors to other convicts able to pay for them."

The "big shots," Moynihan said, usually wore white shirts and trousers in summer.

"Liquor and narcotics were freely 'retailed,' he said they had been told. 'Prisoners made liquor which they sold to other prisoners for a dollar a pint.'"

Moynihan said the witnesses had pointed out those conditions no longer existed and that the present warden Joseph Ragen, was admired by the inmates.

He asserted he had learned the name of one of the accused ex-guards and would invite him to testify. Moynihan and Best recessed the hearings after today's session. They planned to report to the full committee—named by Gov. Henry Horner after Richard Loebe had been slain by Convict James Day—next Monday.

The Will county grand jury investigating the slaying visited the Stateville bathroom where Loebe was killed. State's Attorney Will McCabe said he expected the jurors to indict Day tomorrow.

Suggest Prompt Arrests To Cut Traffic Deaths

Northwestern University Has Completed Survey Of Motor Accidents

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(P)—Prompt arrests and convictions of all traffic violators afford the quickest method of reducing the nation's appalling annual death list from motor accidents, a survey by Northwestern University indicated today.

Based on reports of law enforcement and motor fatalities over a two year period from 38 leading cities, the survey found a direct relationship existed between the number of arrests and convictions for speeding, reckless driving, passing red lights, and other highway violations and the motor vehicle mortality rate.

Ranking the communities on the basis of an index covering the ratio between the number of convictions and the number of personal injury accidents, the survey found that the group which boasted the biggest increases in enforcement showed a decrease of ten per cent in deaths.

At the top of this list Detroit was placed with an increase of 81 per cent in law enforcement and a decrease of 14 per cent in the auto death rate.

Federal Mediators Seek Arbitration To End Tire Strike

More Than 16,000 Persons Out Of Work In Three Cities

Akron, O., Feb. 20.—(P)—Federal mediators sought common ground tonight for an arbitration conference to end the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company strike as labor controversies in Ohio cities threw more than 16,000 out of work.

The Goodyear company petitioned common pleas court for an injunction restraining strikers from blockading entrances to its three closed plants, where 14,000 normally are employed.

Civil authorities, headed by Mayor Lee Schroy and Sheriff James T. Flower participated in a conference with officials of the United Rubberworkers' Union at which they requested the Union's specific demands.

More than 460 chemical union employees of the closed Columbia chemical company, at nearby Barborton, continued their sympathetic "sit-down," which started yesterday, in an effort to force the management to grant union pipe fitters and helpers a wage increase of four cents an hour.

Their families sent food to them by other union men, stationed outside as pickets. The company employs more than 900 persons.

Executives of the Libbey-Owens-Ford company ordered its laminated glass plant at Toledo closed, throwing 1,400 persons out of work, because of a strike of 200 employees starting when 24 women refused to work with others not members of the American Flat Glass Workers' Union.

Department of Labor Mediators T. W. Chappell and Edward C. McDonald met with S. H. Dairymple, rubberworkers' union chief, and John House, Goodyear local president, to discuss the rubber strikers' demands as Goodyear spokesmen announced the company would confer only with its non-striking employees.

Gen. Mitchell Dies

Brigadier Gen. William Mitchell, onetime commander of all the air forces of the A. F. F., died Wednesday in a New York hospital. He was known in later years as the "bad boy" of army aviation, because he openly criticized the aviation policies of the war and navy departments. Whether he was really as bad as military men liked to paint him is questionable, for Gen. Mitchell saw aviation from the standpoint of one who knew what ought to be done, but was prevented from doing it by army and navy ground rules.

Mitchell was the first American officer to fly over the lines in France. He saw the results of bad plane construction; he saw men sent into the air in death traps that burst into flames. When he returned home he sought to establish an efficient air corps, but was hindered at every step he tried to take.

Finally in 1925 Mitchell spoke his mind, and was court-martialed. The decision to suspend him was upheld by President Coolidge, but he was allowed half pay. Mitchell did not like the situation and resigned his commission. He cut adrift from the army in order that he might tell the people what he believed to be the truth about air corps conditions.

There have been bitter protests against the management of the air corps by men with only ground experience, and against the regarding of the corps as a mere adjunct to the infantry, cavalry and artillery. There has been constant agitation for a separate air defense movement with a post in the cabinet. Gen. Mitchell has appealed to Congress and to the general public for betterment of conditions and for an air force that will be really efficient. In this fight he has spent his money, and it is believed that he also broke his health.

To call him a "bad boy" is hardly a fitting explanation for his actions, which appear to have been sincere. It may ultimately transpire that Gen. "Billy" Mitchell will be as much of a hero in his fight for a real defensive air force as he was in his attacks on the enemy in France.

Best to Stay Home

Two boys residing at Godfrey decided last Saturday they would leave home. They evidently forgot the severity of the weather, but the bitter cold took a hand in their affairs soon after they left. They landed in a Missouri town, one of them with his feet frozen.

Relatives began a search, and the mother of one of the boys went to Missouri to bring them back. It was found a mistake had been made in the name of the town, and there was much trouble in locating both the lost boys and the mother en route to find them. Amateur radio operators tried their luck and got definite assurance the renegades were on their way home.

In the dead of winter it is best that young men with the wanderlust curb their roving dispositions and remain at home. There the hearth fires are warmest and comforts come easiest. If they could only realize it. In the other pastures the grass is not green; it is covered with snow and ice. There are no pots of gold at the end of the rainbow, for the simple reason that rainbows have been replaced by sun dogs, made of ice crystals, and not raindrops.

It is wrong to run away any time, but in subzero weather the consequences are likely to be worse. Frozen feet are rather grim souvenirs to bring back from such a jaunt.

Leibowitz Learns

The action of Samuel Leibowitz, famous criminal lawyer, in withdrawing from the defense of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, is significant. He went into the case with avowed intention of getting the truth from the convicted Lindbergh baby kidnaper. He did not get what he wanted, and therefore had the good sense to quit the case. If his action means anything, it is that Hauptmann has lost all hope of escaping the electric chair.

Leibowitz went about the examination of Hauptmann in a most thorough manner. He gave the icy German the "third degree," even finding a way for him to get a look at the electric chair. Hauptmann paled and shrank, but he would not break down. He contributed nothing new to the case. The suspension of his sentence and the renewal of a search for evidence under direction of Governor Hoffman have brought no new clues.

Leibowitz evidently learned all he needed to know. He is not fighting a lost cause, and as a criminal lawyer of high reputation he should know when a cause is hopeless. He does know, and by his withdrawal from the Hauptmann case, he admits there is not a chance left for the condemned man. Governor Hoffman must surely understand by this time that there is nothing more he can do to save Hauptmann. To further oppose the combined opinions of state and federal courts would be a usurpation of power. The New York lawyer has swept away the last doubts, and the kidnaper himself has sealed his own doom by refusing to draw aside the veil which cloaks the case. It is certain now that, were he to tell the truth, his statement would be merely a confession of what evidence submitted at his trial convinced the jury to be true.

Dignity in the Court

Newton D. Baker is heading a special committee of the American Bar Association which will seek to set publicity standards for court trials. The country's lawyers, shocked by the "circus atmosphere" incident to the Hauptmann trial, are going to try to work out some means whereby trials may be fully and freely covered by the press without infringing on the dignity of the courtroom or prejudicing the rights of either side in the case.

Mr. Baker's record as a battler for freedom of the press makes it highly improbable that this committee will try to solve the problem by cutting down the newspapers' right to cover trials. And, indeed, the need of reform is a matter that affects lawyers far more than it does newspapers.

After all, there is no law forcing any attorney to give out nightly interviews during the course of a trial. No judge is compelled to permit the use of cameras and microphones in his courtroom. The legal profession might well accomplish its reform by admonishing its own members.

AN ECHO IN THE VALLEY

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Despite All the Statistics, No One Knows the Number of Unemployed . . . Nor How Many Aliens Illegally Are in the Country . . . Two-score Plans in Congress Aimed at Modifying High Court Power.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington.—In a world in which the statistician and accountant are looming larger every day, it is marvelous that so little is known that certain very important things.

For instance, every legislative effort to cope with relief and re-employment must hang on one bit of information: How many unemployed are there?

And the answer, with all the elaborate statistics that come flooding out of statistics machines daily, is simply this: Nobody knows.

The American Federation of Labor and the National Industrial Conference Board make periodic estimates, usually agreeing within a couple of million. But they can be little better than intelligent guesses. Nobody knows.

That is why a census of unemployment has been periodically proposed, perhaps as a national WPA project. Hugh Johnson had a pet plan to use voting booths in every precinct in the country as registering-places for the unemployed, just as they were used during the war for draft registry.

Bad Election Year Task
But you may be sure that nothing will be done this year toward an accurate national listing and census of the unemployed. Bad election year business.

Some day, however, an increasing number of government officials feel that it must be done, on the principle that before you can accurately determine where you're going, you must first know "where you're at."

Another example of this vagueness of knowledge of elementary data came up in debate on new alien laws in the Senate. It was Senator Reynolds of North Carolina who pointed out that nobody knows how many aliens there are in the country, let alone how many of them are here illegally.

For instance, the Commissioner of Immigration estimates that the number of aliens illegally in the country is less than 100,000. But one New York City official estimates there are 300,000 in his city alone.

The near-impossibility of preventing the illegal entry of aliens is shown by the fact that 40,000,000 people cross the land borders of the country every year. That includes commuters, tourists, and the like, but in so great a shoal it would be unusual if there were not some strange fish.

Makes People Think
It would be inaccurate to say that the adverse supreme court decisions raised the public clamor of protest that New Dealers hoped it would. Spontaneous public clamor was strangely absent.

But plenty of thoughtful people are thinking, both ways, which is at least an improvement over the former tendency to consider the court blindly as something somehow superhuman.

More than forty proposals are pending in Congress to modify in some way the powers of the court.

There is almost no chance of modification in this session of Congress. After the November elections, perhaps, but not now.

Hence, frantic efforts must be made to frame the new AAA substitute in terms that may be made to agree with the present court's interpretation of the Constitution.

New Way Over Hurdle
The idea, of course, is to promulgate the law as a soil conservation measure. Soil conservation has been a legitimate objective of the national government for years.

Then you operate the soil conservation program in such way as to accomplish about the same things which the old AAA was accomplishing—that is, balancing crops with consumption.

A new twist was added to this effort to make the new AAA court-proof by Senator Logan of Kentucky. He added to the purposes of the bill "protection of rivers and harbors against the effects of soil erosion."

The point is that states, be they never so touchy about their rights, have never objected to the federal government coming in and spending millions in dredging out their harbors and rivers.

So, the senators figure that if one of the objects they say they're working toward in the new farm legislation is to improve rivers and harbors, that might help to get over the supreme court hurdle.

True Americanism Described in Talk By James G. Daly

U. C. T. Supreme Counselor Addresses Kiwanians at Meeting Thursday

"The America we love is the America of little homes, of happy wives in the kitchens, of men who scorn to take charity, but who insist on the right to earn a living, it is an America where all are busy and happy," declared James G. Daly, Columbus, Ohio, editor of the "Sample Case," United Commercial Travelers publication, at the Thursday meeting of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club. Mr.

Daly is supreme counselor of the U. C. T., and is spending a few days in the city in the interest of his organization. Referring to the Kiwanis club as a service organization the speaker said the best service can be given by building in the community. "If there is a real need in America," said Mr. Daly, "it is the need for complete harmony among the citizens of America. George Washington gave everything he had for America, when he could have had anything he wanted from England. What we need, declared the speaker, is more men who take this attitude.

The real Americans not only think what should be done, they put their thoughts into action, said the speaker. Our grandparents had their problems, their hardships, and they faced them courageously. This country has experienced the most severe winter of any that have occurred during the lives of most of its inhabitants, yet these hardships are small compared to those experienced by the builders of America, who fought the cold, snow drifts, wild animals, and wild men from poorly constructed log cabins.

While our grandparents had their problems, the present generation also has its problems, declared the speaker. One of the questions facing the nation is the issue between the government and corporations. This must be solved. The speaker expressed an opinion that it would be necessary to change methods of taxation by taking the taxes from the land and placing it on sales and incomes in order that foreigners who enjoy the benefit of taxation may be made to pay their fair share. There are also needs for tariff changes.

Mr. Daly quoted figures to show that the small business men employ more than half of the labor. A survey taken some time ago showed that many of these small business men could not operate their business because of the lack of capital. They could not borrow the capital from the banks because bankers were fearful of government regulations. If the small business man can have a chance to borrow he can put people to work and the people can begin buying. It is necessary that America get back to the system that persons who don't work can't eat. Give the men an opportunity to work. Milton Craig was admitted into membership in the club.

U. C. T. Rally Today Will Attract Many Members, Officials

James G. Daly Will Speak at Big Rally; Banquet to Precede Dance

With invitations extended to United Commercial Traveler officials in five states, Jacksonville Council 182 is making preparations for a large attendance at booster meeting and banquet here tonight at the L. O. O. F. Temple on East State street. The event is in honor of Supreme Counselor James G. Daly, who arrived yesterday for a series of addresses.

Supreme officers, Grand officers and council members from a wide territory will attend the gathering, which will lead off with an initiation of candidates this afternoon, followed by the banquet, speaking program and dance.

U. C. T. Auxiliary members will join in the Jacksonville meeting. Special entertainment arrangements for Auxiliary members have been made.

Invitations went out some time ago to U. C. T. officials in Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois, and responses by mail indicate that all of these states will be represented. Last year the five-state meeting drew an attendance of about 400.

The convention will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Odd Fellows hall with a reception for the visiting officers' members and ladies. Auxiliary members will be entertained with a theater party at the Fox Illinois theater during the afternoon.

Initiation of candidates will take place at 3:30 o'clock by the degree team of the Champaign Council. The U. C. T. now receives into membership all business and professional men, so that the class by no means will be limited to knights of the sample case.

Through the leadership of Supreme Counselor Daly all councils throughout the United States and Canada have made fine gains in membership during the year. The Supreme Council is reported to be in the best financial condition in many years.

The banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the L. O. O. F. Temple on East State street by ladies of the First Baptist church. Supreme Counselor Daly will deliver his address immediately after the banquet. Music for the evening will be furnished by an orchestra from the Illinois School for the Blind. The Odd Fellows quartet will sing, and the remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing.

Mr. Daly will leave tonight after his address here for Eau Claire, Wis., where he will make an official visit. All councils in the Supreme Domain are holding membership campaigns during February, which has been designated as Daly Month. Des Moines, Iowa is holding a rally at the Savoy Hotel February 29 and is asking all councils to send the Supreme Counselor a telegram giving the success of the meetings.

Prominent Men to Attend Officials who are expected to attend the Jacksonville meeting include some of the most prominent men in the Middlewest civic and fraternal affairs. Supreme Junior Counselor and Grand Secretary of Illinois Harold C. Smith, Chicago, will be among the guests. He is slated to be elected Supreme Counselor at the Columbus, Ohio convention in June.

Supreme Sentinel Harold C. Smith, Racine, Wis., has indicated that he will attend.

Grand Counselor A. H. States of Peoria will make his official visit to the old home council today. He was a resident of Jacksonville when he became a member of the order. When the Grand Council meets at Springfield in May the Grand Counselor will report a year of fine gains for his jurisdiction.

Grand Junior Counselor George L. Menn of Quincy is an active U. C. T. leader in Illinois and has secured many members. He will be elevated in rank at the state convention.

Champaign Degree Team The Champaign degree team will be led by Grand Conductor Judson H. Lair, who has been a leader in writing new members. He was awarded a cup last year for his excellent work. Galesburg will be represented by a delegation headed by Grand Page Wilson.

Grand Sentinel Mark L. Landeker of Chicago is also state teamwork director and has done a great deal in helping the councils show a fine gain. Grand Executive Committee Chairman Charles A. Boehme of Rock Island has written that a delegation will be present from his city.

Springfield's delegation will be led by Grand Treasurer J. H. Thomas. Springfield Council is holding its rally February 29 beginning with an initiation at 3 p. m., at the Elks Club. There will be a dinner dance at the Lincoln Inn in Lincoln park starting at 6 p. m. Springfield Council has extended an invitation to the Jacksonville organization, and a large group from here will attend.

Wisconsin Visitors Grand Counselor A. C. Stangel, Manitowish, Wis., and Grand Secretary J. G. Ziegler, Chippewa Falls, Wis., are expected to drive to Jacksonville for the meeting today. The Missouri delegation will include Grand Counselor Frank J. Creagen, Sedalia, and Grand Secretary Leo P. Jansen, St. Louis. The councils of St. Louis, Hannibal and Mexico, Mo., are expected to have delegations.

Past Grand Counselors Gerald Taylor and Harry Boone, Sr. of Springfield will be among the visiting delegations. Past Grand Counselor Leslie Jackson of this city has worked diligently in interest of the rally here this week, assisted by a number of committees.

"I'll hold the critter, pardner—get in"

William Boyd, now appearing in Paramount's "Bar 20 Rides Again," has good horse sense. Bill knows that if the tank of that car is filled with Standard's new double-quick starting gasoline, it's rarin' to go!

THIS horseplay of tying down a car to keep it from jumping out from under you before you're all set, is quite unnecessary, of course. Standard's new gasoline isn't really that lively. But you will find it gives you, at last, the very kind of get-up-and-go you've always wished for in winter-time driving.

Even when the mercury dives to the bottom of the thermometer, this new Standard Red Crown responds to the first spin of the starter, catches hold at once and stays in action. No jerky, balky going—but full team ahead! It warms up a zero-cold motor fully 35% faster. That means less choke-wasted gasoline—and that means longer mileage, of course.

Get some of this new Standard Red Crown... and SEE WHAT HAPPENS next time you step on the starter.

Sold by Standard Oil Stations and Dealers everywhere at the price of "regular" gasoline.

Also SOLITE with Ethyl, Standard's superlative new high-octane gasoline—slightly higher in price, and worth it! Ask the Serviceman.

Old Age Pension Office is Opened

Applicants Begin Filing Papers with Official Thursday Morning

The Morgan county old age pension office at the court house opened yesterday morning with a steady number of applicants, but the opening could not be called a rush. Superintendent Fred Deatherage reported that most applicants needed some assistance in filling out their blanks.

One hundred and forty applications were presented to Superintendent Deatherage, but only forty were filed, others being rejected because they were improperly filled out. Mr. Deatherage said yesterday that only petitions properly filled out will be accepted. He stated that it is the duty of the superintendent to receive the applications and not to aid in filling them. He advises all applicants to have their blanks properly filled before they are presented. This includes the affidavit which is necessary since there is no notary public in Mr. Deatherage's office.

A large sign has been placed at the entrance of the pension office, which is at the west side of the front portico. The office was created by partitioning off a part of the hallway leading to the second floor.

Nine applications were filed during the first hour the office was open. Whether office assistants will be added to the pension staff has not been determined.

Mr. Deatherage stated that many of the applications presented were improperly filled out and were rejected. Some had not signed and sworn to the applications; some presented only one, when the rules required the applications to be submitted in duplicate; some did not have all the questions answered; and quite a number had one or more wrong answers. Some people presented their applications without having attached a certificate showing the age of the applicant.

All faulty applications were rejected.

Mistakes Delay Filing

Mr. Deatherage stated that applicants should have some friend examine their applications before bringing them to the office, as the presenting of faulty applications greatly delays the filing of the papers.

Questions 4, 8, 10 and 12 seemed to give the greatest trouble.

Question four as to the applicant's residence for the past nine years should give the present address as well as the address during the past nine years. If a person has lived in Jacksonville at several addresses, the different street addresses however, should be given. Also, if the person is given by several, not sufficient.

Question eight asks if the applicant has been maintained by any institution. Institution means county home, Old Folks Home or hospital, and unless the applicant has been an inmate of such, should be answered no.

Question ten asks in regard to ownership of real and personal property. Many answer "no" when in fact they do own property. It may only be household furniture; if so, that should be answered by writing the words "household furniture". Or if the property owned is livestock, that should be written in as so many cows, horses or hogs. If the applicant owns real estate or other property or share in property, a description should be given. Also, if the property is taxed, the assessed valuation should be given.

Question twelve is "Do you receive any pension or allowance of any kind?" Many answer "No" when in fact they are receiving aid from Emergency Relief, or from some charity; or are receiving help from a child or other relative. Even where an applicant is living with a son or daughter, and receiving no cash, the answer should be "Board and room from son (or daughter) —" naming the son or daughter. Such help or assistance, from whatever source it comes, is included under the word "allowance", even though it be temporary. All persons on relief should state in answer to this question twelve.

Each application must be sworn to before some notary public, must be filled out in duplicate, and must have a certificate of age attached.

Population Doubles At Court House in The Past Ten Years

New Offices and Employees Liven Up Old Building; Many Activities

Population of the Morgan county court house has doubled in the last ten years according to a memory check made yesterday by the Journal and Courier court house reporter.

With the opening of the Old Age Pension office on the first floor, the court house became the center of still another public service and added several employees. All of the court house workers are not employed by the county, however, as the federal work and relief programs have been responsible for filling up offices in the court house that once were idle.

When the Morgan County Farm

Bureau was organized its first few years were centered in the court house. There was plenty of space there then, even for organizations not directly associated with the county government. But today office space in the building is almost at a premium.

Ten years ago this county had not heard of the National Reemployment Service. Today this federal agency has headquarters in the court house basement, with a number of employees. The office quarters were made possible by remodeling of a section of the basement.

Ten years ago the highway department did not need permanent quarters, as it consisted only of a superintendent who had desk room in the commissioner's office. Today the highway department occupies rooms on the first and second floors, and employs several persons. The extensive hard road program and government work projects have multiplied the duties of the office.

A decade ago the public health program was still undeveloped, while today two public health nurses have an office on the first floor of the court house, just south of the circuit clerk's office.

Ten years ago this county had no resident circuit judge; today there is a judge's chamber on the second floor with a secretary-courier reporter present each day.

The master-in-chancery has had an office on the second floor for several years, this being at the southwest corner of the building adjacent to the circuit court room. Prior to the opening of this space the master-in-chancery had an office in the Farrell Bank building.

WPA projects have added to the court house population on several occasions. Two women are now engaged in restoring old files in the circuit clerk's office.

Tax extension work is under way in the county clerk's office and this adds several persons to the court house population at this time of the year.

The county board of commissioners already is considering the added burden of handling the relief situation, if this is turned over to the counties. That would necessitate more space and more employees.

In ten years the court house has developed from a half-used building devoted only to the care of records and administration of justice, into a beehive of varied activities. The federal and state governments have interests there now, and the next year or two promises to fill every nook and cranny with offices.

TO MILLIONS WHO SHOULD USE BRAN

Tests Show ALL-BRAN Corrects Constipation* Gently and Naturally

Since its introduction, some fifteen years ago, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has been used with beneficial results by millions of people.

Realizing the important relationship between proper diet and health, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading university laboratories. These tests show that the continued use of bran is thoroughly satisfactory.

ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" which absorbs water, and gently loosens the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron. Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook in delicious recipes.

This tempting cereal may be enjoyed by every normal person. Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Consult your doctor if you do not gain relief this way.

Help your family keep well. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

"Dodge Costs Less to Run—

ROY CHAPMAN ANDREWS
American Museum of Natural History

It's hard to excel Dodge for dependability, comfort and economy... I know...

Dodge helped me blaze the way through trackless wastelands in the Far East... many times we staked our lives on the dependability of Dodge cars...

And what an economical car... I know my Dodge has cost less to run than a small car... After my experience with Dodge I recommend that everyone see and drive the big, new, 1936 Money-Saving Dodge "Beauty Winner."

In an Official Bulletin to its representatives throughout Illinois, Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, said:

"In case a client refused WPA employment or offers no justifiable reason for not reporting, relief may be continued in his case for only two weeks following his assignment date. Such time is believed ample to determine the facts in any case. If it is determined earlier that the client is definitely at fault and will not reconsider, the case should be closed immediately."

"In the same Bulletin, Mr. Lyons calls the attention of relief administrators to the fact that cases certified from WPA employment will not be assigned if clients have failed to register with the employment offices and instructs administrators to see that all persons eligible to participate in the WPA program are registered immediately."

"Refusal of the client to register shall cause immediate discontinuance of relief and closing of the case."

Final Game Of Series;
Chevies Win

Pulling away after a bitterly fought third quarter, the Smith Indexes repeated their victory earlier in the week over the Swift Packers to win the city Y. M. C. A. league basketball championship last night on the David Prince court, 26 to 17. The Indexes were held scoreless during the third period when the Packers came within three points of tying the score.

Frank Smith and "Pop-Eye" Hudson led the Smith drive in the last quarter to clinch the game. Smith scoring seven of the 11 points the Indexes marked up in the final quarter. The Indexes led all the way, but were never far enough in the lead to consider the game safely in their hands until the last three minutes.

After pulling up a 7-1 lead at the start, the Indexes saw their margin melt under a Packer assault that left the score 9 to 5 at the end of the first period. It wilted still further as the Packers cut the margin to 9-8 at one stage of the second quarter, but again the Indexes pulled away, the score at the end of the half standing 15-10.

George Geanetos, who led the Packer scoring with nine points, tossed in the only two points scored in the third period, reducing the margin to 15-12 as the final quarter opened, but the Indexes, with Smith ringing the hoop, slowly widened the gap.

In a preliminary, the Chevies won a hot scoring battle with a fourth quarter finish 40 to 37, defeating the CCC quarter after it had taken a 26 to 25 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The games were played before a full house.

Fire King Adds to Misery as Bitter Cold Grips U.S.

Fire added its terror to the sub-zero wave that has held the country in its grip for a record period, with disastrous blazes in many cities. The scene above, at one of the worst fires in Detroit for several years, is typical of the hardships faced by fire fighters. With the mercury at 10 below and the ice encrusting their engines and festooning wires, the firemen fought for hours to quell the flames in a towering elevator, the loss reaching $100,000.

Cold Weather Calls For Labor to Save Spring Pigs Here

Farmers Take Precautions to Cut Loss in Farrowing Time, Now Starting

Attention of farmers in Morgan county is being called to the necessity for saving the 1936 pig crop, which will be hampered by the unusually cold weather of the past few weeks and severe cold believed still held in store for this section. From now to the middle of May the pigs will be arriving, and the most of them will be farrowed during March, which may hold some rather severe weather.

Many farmers are already taking precautions, padding their hog houses with straw and installing artificial heat wherever possible. It is absolutely essential that the new pigs be kept warm and dry for at least two days after farrowing. The sows should be given warm water on these cold mornings.

Farmers may find it necessary to stay up with the young pigs during the night hours to see that they are kept warm. If heat cannot be placed in the farrowing quarters, the pigs should be wrapped up and brought into the house by the stove. In view of the good prices being paid for hogs, farmers cannot afford to lose any of the pig crop this spring.

In the State hospital hog houses this spring fifty to seventy-five sows will farrow. Warm quarters are provided and careful attention is given the young pigs. The loss will be cut to the very minimum, and the institution will raise a huge herd of pigs for its future meat supply.

If farmers throughout the county exercise care in saving the young pigs, the production in this area will be much increased this year. Farmers are farrowing as many hogs as possible in view of the good market prices being paid for hogs.

Illinois Livestock Increases in Value And Numbers, Claim

Total Stock on Farms Greater: Is Worth 52 Per Cent More Than Year Ago

Decreases in the number of horses, mules, and sheep, and increases in the numbers of all cattle and hogs on Illinois farms Jan. 1, 1936, compared with the revised estimates for Jan. 1, 1935, are shown by the annual estimates of livestock on farms made by the Illinois and Federal Departments of Agriculture. For the United States there was an increase in hogs on farms but all other species decreased.

While the combined numbers of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, and sheep of all ages on farms increased about 7 per cent during 1935, the total value increased about 52 per cent. The number of all Illinois livestock on farms on Jan. 1 was placed at $4,722,000 head compared with 7,931,000 head last year and 9,607,000 head in 1933. The total value which was estimated to be $264,142,000 this year is the highest since Jan. 1, 1930, and compares with $175,312,000 a year ago and $146,792,000 in 1933.

Hog numbers increased 12 per cent from the low point of last year but are still 25 per cent below the 1932-33 average inventory numbers. The increase from last year is due to an increase in the 1935 fall pig crop and a definite retarding of marketings late in 1935. Short corn supplies last summer and fall resulted in hogs entering the winter feeding period at lighter weights than usual. The number of hogs on farms in the Corn Belt states increased 13 per cent over last year. There were 3,931,000 hogs on farms in Illinois this January 1 compared with 3,510,000 year. U. S. hog numbers totaled 42,541,000 against 39,004,000 a year ago. This is an increase of about 9 per cent. The value per head of Illinois hogs on January 1, 1936, increased 28 per cent from last year.

While the number of all cattle on Illinois farms increased 6 per cent during 1935, the number of milk cows and heifers two years old and over decreased 5 per cent, there was a decrease of 8 per cent in the number of milk heifers one to two years old but a decided increase in the number of heifer calves kept for milk. The number of all cattle on farms in Illinois was placed at 2,788,000 head this year compared with 2,630,000 a year ago. The value per head of all Illinois cattle increased about 35 per cent from January 1, 1935, to January 1, 1936. U. S. cattle numbers decreased slightly during the last year. The number of all cattle was 68,213,000 head on January 1 this year compared with 68,528,000 last year. The numbers of cows and heifers two years old and over kept for milk was about 2 per cent below a year ago for the United States.

Sheep and lamb numbers on Illinois farms decreased about 3 per cent from last year due to a large decrease in number of sheep and lambs on feed. The number of stock sheep increased 5 per cent during the last year. There were 904,000 sheep and lambs on farms January 1, 1936, of which 200,000 were estimated as on feed, while on January 1, 1935, the total amounted to 930,000 head with 260,000 head on feed. U. S. sheep and lamb numbers were placed at $1,673,000 head this year compared with $2,210,000 a year ago.

The total number of horses on Illinois farms continued to decline during 1935 although the number of colts showed a substantial increase. There were 739,000 horses on farms January 1, 1936, as against 746,000 last year. The number of mules was estimated at 110,000 head compared with 115,000 a year ago. U. S. horse numbers were placed at 11,637,000 against 11,861,000 last year. U. S. mule numbers totaled 4,685,000 compared with 4,822,000 on January 1, 1935. Both horse and mule numbers increased for the United States.

Relief, Pensions Are Discussed At B. P. W. C. Meeting

Hugh Green Discusses State
Legislation At Club
Session

That the problem of relief has been one of the major problems of the General Assembly during both the 58th and 59th General Assemblies was the statement made by Representative Hugh Green at the meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club at the Peacock Inn last night. Members of the local A. B. C. club Miss Georgina Munis and Mrs. Hugh Green were guests at the meeting.

Discussing relief and old age pensions Mr. Green spoke at the meeting in part as follows:

The report of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, gave a combined summary of commitments from all funds monthly, to the various counties of the state. For instance, according to the summary, the total to Morgan county in December 1935, was $5,970.79, which increased to $36,675.64 per month by December 1934, and in September 1935, was $32,625.39, being the last report which came to my hands. The number of families on relief reported in Morgan county was as follows: In September 1934, the number was 1,046 and in September 1935 it was 1,341.

"Recently the Illinois Emergency Relief commission was abolished after May 1, 1936, and the general plan is to turn over to the various county treasurers funds to meet relief needs. "Old age pensions have constituted another problem in the 58th General Assembly both in the regular and special sessions.

"At the regular session in June 1935, an old age pension law was passed but it was claimed that the law did not conform to the Federal Social Security Act. Particularly was this true with reference to residence requirements. The first special session was called and the law was entirely re-written and passed in January 1936. It was known as House Bill No. 1. The storm centered about the companion bill which was known as House Bill No. 32. This bill created much controversy over the matter of administration of the law. The question was whether the old age pension boards in the various counties should be appointed by the head of the department of Public Welfare of the state or whether the various county judges should be permitted to make such appointments. After a long and tedious struggle the power was vested in the county judges. No such legislation by the government to the contrary notwithstanding.

"A third major problem has been school legislation. The claim is that Illinois ranks forty-first among the states in its support of the school system. The claim is that the schools receive but 10% of their support from the state of Illinois, whereas California and New York afford 30%, Pennsylvania 30% and North Carolina support for six months. The net result of the legislation in Illinois has been to increase the contribution by the state from 10% millions per year to 13 millions. Those most interested in the schools have pointed out a tremendous increase in attendance at our high schools over a period of years.

"The third special session of the 58th General Assembly among other things is much concerned with legislation pertaining to honest elections, the particular matter dealing with permanent registration of voters. It is generally claimed that there is a great deal of fraud in connection with elections that the matter can be corrected by a system of permanent registration where the voter registers but once unless the voter removes from the voting place. In such a system a voter can be quickly identified by signature on cards. Sponsors of the bills maintained that such a system has prevented wholesale election frauds in other cities and especially point to the success of operation in Detroit. During the regular session of the 58th General Assembly the Republican bloc stood firmly for permanent registration legislation and conducted a filibuster which impeded other legislation except that dealing with relief and the schools.

Townsendites Will Not Sponsor Third Party In Primary

Organization Will Not Enter
Delegation Slate Leaders
Declare

Los Angeles, Feb. 20.—(P)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend said tonight his old age pension organization will neither sponsor a third party nor join movements in any state that would involve a conflict in the presidential preferential primary of other major parties.

He referred particularly to the recently announced plan of the organization, "California democracy," to enter a Townsend plan delegation slate on the May 5 primary ballot, nominally pledged to Congressman John Steven McGroarty of California for president.

Dr. Townsend said reports of this plan have been so phrased "as to create the impression that Mr. McGroarty is the official candidate of the Townsend organization."

"We have no inclination," he said, to antagonize any favorite son candidate either in California or elsewhere. But we cannot escape the conclusion that if Mr. McGroarty runs as a favorite son Townsend candidate in California, somebody in every state, following his example, will do likewise.

"Such a program could only bring defeat and discredit to the Townsend movement."

Jerseyville—Employees of the central Illinois Public Service Company of this city made a trip into Calhoun county Tuesday afternoon to cut in the service leads of a power line with Dam Twenty-five, being built south of Hatchtown.

The power company recently completed building a line into the vicinity of the dam. Tuesday afternoon J. R. Broderick, superintendent of the Jerseyville office, E. D. Hartzell and H. J. Musgrove, division engineers, T. H. Schultz, division power engineer and O. Kaiser, construction engineer, left Jerseyville at one o'clock.

Upon approaching their destination in Calhoun county, they drove several miles through bottom lands within a quarter of a mile of a slough where they had to abandon their car and continued the journey on foot.

The ice on the slough was covered with water that had overflowed from the river that day and the men waded in it at times up to their knees. Reaching the bank of the river, the men continued across the stream on the ice until they reached a power tug which had been sent to meet them, about one-fourth of the distance from the other shore.

About seventy men are working on the dam and Monday thermometer readings in the vicinity recorded twenty to twenty-two below. A large number of the men on the job are reported suffering from frost bitten hands and ears.

Twelve railway coaches were caught in a landslide at Kashiwara, east of Osaka, and it was feared some were killed.

Hear Army Guns Sold to Gangs

Senate Passes Bill Without a Dissenting Vote After Junk Dealer Tells Committee of Purchases.

REPAIRED OLD GUNS

Washington — (AP) — While its munitions investigators listened to testimony of sales of old army machine guns, the senate today passed legislation prohibiting shipments of all firearms and ammunition in interstate commerce except by licensed dealers.

The bill, sponsored by Senators Copeland (D. N. Y.), Vandenberg (R. Mich.) and Murphy (D. Ia.) of the anti-crime committee now goes to the house. It was approved by unanimous vote.

The measure, which provides penal-

Testimony that thousands of machine guns—mutilated but repairable—were being sold by the army while the justice department was trying to prevent their delivery to gangsters, was given before the senate munitions committee.

PLEADS FOR FARM BILL

Washington — (P) — The administration's new farm bill was backed today by Representative Hope (R. Kans.) with the assertion that Governor Landon of Kansas, Senator Dickinson of Iowa and former President Hoover all have advanced the soil conservation idea.

Stepping into the debate that is expected to bring a final vote on the soil conservation-subsidy program by tomorrow night, Hope pleaded for non-partisan consideration of farm legislation.

"Farm legislation has been a political football for a long while," said the Kansan, who is a friend of Landon, a Republican presidential possibility.

testified that in addition to 3,834 machine guns he bought in 1933, other quantities were being offered "almost every week" at army depots in various parts of the country.

At the same time, he said, the justice department "was checking up on me almost every day" to find where the guns were being sold.

The anti-crime bill defines a "fire-arm" to mean any weapon designed to "expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive; and a firearm muffler or firearm silencer."

"Ammunition is defined as embracing 'all pistol or revolver ammunition except 22 caliber rim-fire ammunition.'"

Real 'Zero Hour' in Rubber Strike

Steaming soup and hot sandwiches fortified pickets against near-zero temperatures as they massed about plant No. 2 of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Akron, O., paralyzing operations and threatening to involve the nation's tire capital in a serious tie-up. Layoffs, caused by slackened production, were at the bottom of the strike. A "sit-down strike" meantime tied up the No. 1 plant.

Hoover Mystifies Republicans as to His Plans for Year

Some Believe He is Trying to Deadlock Convention; No Boom for Him

New York — (P) — The position of Herbert Hoover in the Republican party has mystified even many of the Republicans themselves.

The former president, only living Republican occupant of the White House, is the nominal head of his party. In recent months he has made several trips across the continent and has conferred with G.O.P. leaders in many states. He has made a detailed criticism of the Roosevelt New Deal in a series of major speeches.

Yet, there is none of the surface activity in his behalf comparable with the activity in behalf of Governor Alf Landon or Senator William E. Borah or Colonel Frank Knox.

His words have been scanned carefully in a search for his possible intentions or hopes in '36. In the political conversations common to everyone this question constantly arises: What is Hoover going to do?

From Palo Alto, there has come, as yet, no answer.

One possible answer is given privately by prominent party leaders, who have conferred with the former president. They say he will sit back and wait.

Mr. Hoover is in a peculiar position so far as delegates are concerned. Suppose he did try to obtain instructed delegations. If he waged a hard fight, he would go into Ohio, as he did in 1928. But the state committee in Ohio has declared against him.

His native state, Iowa, is being asked to send a delegation behind a favorite son, Senator Dickinson.

Governor Merriam is said to want the delegation from Mr. Hoover's adopted state, California.

His chance, if he desires the nomination, is believed by his friends to lie in continuing his speaking campaign, discussing the issues, striving to create a sentiment that might surge toward him in a deadlocked convention.

There are others of the former president's friends who say he has unselfishly assumed a lead in campaigning against the New Deal with the hope of further reward from the party.

Council Discusses Proposed W. P. A. Project At Meet

Health Department, City Attorney To Consider Proposal

Moving on one stage of their business to rescind an ordinance now on the city books which requires that all outside toilets be built with concrete vaults, the city council, recanted before any decision was taken on a proposed WPA project to construct a number of these units for sale in the city limits, and referred the matter to the health department and the city attorney to report back at the next meeting of the council.

F. C. Sanders, supervisor of the "Chick" Sale project for Morgan county, explained the proposition to the council, and asked them for some indication as to what they would do if these new outbuildings were constructed without the concrete vaults, but were built according to specifications laid down by the state board of health. The supervisor distributed a number of pamphlets describing the proposed improvements, and then said that he would be asked to put about 30 men to work immediately in constructing the buildings.

Possible conflict with a state law, which requires all property owners who have accessibility to sewer outlets to connect onto the main sewer, prevented the council from taking any action. Attorney O. N. Foreman, who substituted for the regular city attorney, Edward Cleary, who is vacationing in Florida, recalled that the city had two ordinances on the books at present, one of them requiring the concrete vaults, and the other requiring connection with sewer mains. The council decided to wait until it had been determined what should be done before taking any action.

Executive Session
Following the regular business meeting, at which minor matters were brought up for consideration, the council went into an executive session to consider plans regarding the advertisement of the municipal light and power plant. Special Counsel Foreman requested the executive session.

Chairman Ralph Green of the fire committee expressed his appreciation to the water committee for throwing out various frozen fire hydrants in the city. F. G. Stoldt, superintendent of the water department, explained that he found about 20 hydrants frozen, and that 15 of these were put back in service by a special contrivance rigged up by the water department. The other five are available, will be repaired as soon as possible. One of the five was broken when it was struck by some sort of vehicle, he reported, and all of them are broken in such a manner that it will be impossible to fix them until warmer weather. The water superintendent also reported that a number of private services were frozen up, but that it was not the duty of his department to remedy the loss of service.

W. H. Cocking called the attention of the council to the steps taken by the Illinois Power & Light company to prevent gas explosions here such as have been causing damage and loss of life in other cities. He said that the company now is injecting a gas with a bad odor into the natural gas in order that leaks in the mains would be discovered quickly, and urged persons noticing this odor to call the Illinois Power & Light company, and unless repairs were made immediately to call the fire department.

Escaping gas has been reported from at least two places in the city, and it is feared that other cases may have not been reported.

Adopt Ordinance
The council adopted the ordinance setting up a regular project committee to handle all of the projects sponsored under the government program, by a 6-1 vote. Alderman George Brown voting against the ordinance. Alderman Franklin Matthews was absent. The committee appointed by Mayor F. J. Blackburn, consists of W. H. Cocking, Ralph Green, Robert Weaver and Ray Harmon.

The light department was requested to provide more light on the city hall block, a request which the chairman of the department said would be fulfilled. The council voted to permit the water department to purchase a second hand truck without advertising for bids, for an amount not to exceed $350, for use on the proposed water valve repair project.

A communication signed by all of the employees of the city, thanking the council for restoring the ten per cent pay cut at the outset of the Wainwright administration, was read by the city clerk, along with a statement that the city's share of the motor fuel tax collection for January was $3079.65, and that the city water was safe for drinking purposes.

The council approved the bill of sale, submitted by the Illinois Power & Light Corp., which will permit the city to go ahead with the WPA project of removing the rails from the streets.

Basil Sorrells, president of the Park Board, came to an agreement with the council over the disposition of tools now in use on various WPA projects, when the projects are completed.

The treasurer's report for January, showing a balance of $20,520.21 in the general fund, was presented and ordered filed.

H. S. Debate Team To Meet Pekin In Contest Tonight

Local Debaters To Engage In First Decisional Argument

The first big test of the season will be administered to the J. H. S. debate team this afternoon when the local affirmative meets the strong Pekin team in a decisional debate at Pekin. While this is going on the Crimson negative and the Pekin affirmative will be having a practice contest. Later in the year these two groups will have a decisional debate before the Jacksonville High school assembly.

Pekin is regarded as one of the finest teams in the north central portion of the state, perhaps in the entire northern half of Illinois. They are coached by Theodore Nelson who for the past few years has turned out outstanding teams at Mendota, winning the state N. L. championship in 1935. He has put his Pekin charges through a stiff practice season with the northern Illinois teams and is rumored to have a bunch that will come through as one of the toughest in state competition this year.

Records show that Jacksonville has had the best of it over Nelson's teams, however. Two years ago, the local speakers met and defeated them twice in two state tournaments. Last year the two schools met twice, with Jacksonville again winning both contests. The Mendota negative of '35 suffered its only defeat of the year in state competition at the hands of the J. H. S. arguers. Jacksonville has also met Pekin in former years, but has never been defeated by them.

But the records do not mean that the Crimson goes into today's meet with any advantage. Pekin has had a much more thorough practice season up to this time. The locals are also having to make an over night change from a three man to a two man team for today's debate.

Coch Harold Gibson will put Mary Butler and Jane Dunlap on the affirmative for Jacksonville today, while Ralph Dunlap, Barbara Butler and Bill Clark will practice with the Pekin affirmative. The team will leave about 10:30 this morning and will return tonight.

Hold Recreational Meet At Concord

Program Is Given; Plans For Continued Activities Are Discussed

Concord is the first community in Morgan county which has adopted a program for the promotion of recreational activities. A meeting was held last night in the town hall at Concord with W. W. Williams, president of the village board, in charge. Mr. Williams explained the purpose of the meeting and then presented Fred E. Darr, county project director, who had charge of the program.

Group singing was led by Devere Brookhouse of this city, with Mrs. W. Williams as accompanist. Albert Todd, Sr. and Albert Todd, Jr. played several guitar and mandolin duets. A quartet composed of Mary Laughery, Helen Thixton, Jane and Mary Williams of Concord gave several vocal selections and Eugene Higginfill, L. Hopper and Weldon Higginfill gave several guitar numbers. Mr. Brookhouse also sang a number of vocal solos.

Mr. Darr explained that the program was made possible thru the WPA and includes promotion in various of the recreational activities, among them being handcraft groups, music clubs, physical education programs, recreational clubs and social events. Ray Spillman spoke on handicraft work.

Mrs. Beatrice Brookhouse will be recreation leader for Concord and announced a program of work in handicraft for women beginning today at her home. These classes are to be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. Announcement was made that a music group will be formed Wednesday evening of next week.

A similar program will be held at Meredosia next Thursday evening with C. P. Hedrick in charge.

The program is being arranged by the following committee: Nate Wright, chairman; U. J. Sinclair and Richard Thornley.

In spite of the extreme cold, about ten members gathered Monday night at the home of Mrs. Velma Pearn, at a meeting of the World Wide Guild, a missionary society for girls of the Baptist church. Miss Alta Goodman gave a very interesting book review and a talk on "Missions" was presented by Mrs. Pearn. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maude Hopper, March 19.

War Lord Grim Orientals To Wage Polite Warfare At College Institute

Plan To Move Sessions To Gym To Accommodate Larger Crowd

When the great forensic contest of Park vs. Minnakuchi takes place at the MacMurray Institute next Tuesday afternoon Americans will for once get to hear what each side in the quarrel of China and Japan has to say for itself. Also, the old American theory that orientals are always suave and never lose their tempers may get a severe test. The two will give separate addresses on the Institute program Tuesday morning and discuss the general questions at a debate at two o'clock.

Because of the great crowds which could not be accommodated comfortably at last year's institute meeting, and the many who had to be turned away, the MacMurray authorities have decided to move to a larger hall for the meetings. Music Hall will be deserted for the MacMurray gymnasium, which will seat from a hundred to a hundred and fifty more people. All sessions except the Maurice Hindu dinner season Tuesday evening will be held in the gymnasium.

China's Champion
Dr. No-Yong Park, who will take the stand for China, was born and raised in Manchuria, and has lived through many of the storms that have shaken the Orient. He has studied much in China, Japan, Europe, and America, and is most eminently qualified to interpret our Far Eastern relations without bias.

Dr. Park is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and holds degrees of Masters of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy from Harvard University.

While in college he captured a number of prizes. He was one of the winners of the International Essay Contest open to all foreign students in American colleges, the Harris Political Science Prize given to the students of the leading universities in the Middle West, and the Pillsbury Oratorical Contest at the University of Minnesota, competing with the American students in the same league.

At Harvard University he studied history and political science, majoring in international relations. He wrote his doctorate dissertation on China and the League of Nations.

He has written among other works "Making a New China" and "An Oriental View of American Civilization," and these have created a wide interest. His latest book, to be published shortly, is entitled "Retreat of the West." It is a stirring theme, challenging and thought-provoking; indeed it is the great theme of the century, explaining the Western retreat from Eastern Asia.

Dr. Park is an accomplished lecturer of international repute, and ranks in the class of the most chosen celebrities of our times. For more than ten years he has been lecturing at various universities and colleges and civic organizations. From Maine to Florida, and from New York to California, his message has been heralded as one of the most important that has ever come from the Orient. His gift of expression, breadth of vision, richness of experience, wealth of information, power of analysis and keen sense of Mark-Twain-like humor make him a very popular speaker in the great cities of America and Canada.

At present he is a lecturer on Far Eastern international relations at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Minakuchi
Japan's right to the good opinion of the world will be upheld by Yutaka Minakuchi at present a resident of Peacham, Vermont. Mr. Minakuchi was born in Tokyo, where he grew up and graduated from the public high school. After three years in the junior college at Kioodo Kwan he had the privilege of joining the household of his uncle, a member of the Imperial Diplomatic service, stationed at Vladivostok, in Siberia. There he spent three years studying Russian language and literature with a private tutor.

Having imbibed an interest in foreign cultures and international relations while in Siberia Mr. Minakuchi's next move was to the United States. He spent his freshman year at the University of Kentucky, and then completed a university course for both the A. B. and A. M. degrees at the University of North Carolina, where he achieved high distinction as a student, despite his foreign background. He later pursued graduate studies in philosophy and religion for four years in the University of Virginia, Oberlin School of Theology and Yale University.

Mr. Minakuchi has lived in the United States since the completion of his periodical trips to Japan to keep in touch with the new movements there. During the world war he assisted the American authorities as a speaker for the Liberty Loan drives and for the Red Cross. The years since the war have been spent in study, speaking and writing. Last summer, by invitation of the committee in charge he participated in the Seminar on the Far East held at Columbia University.

DOG LEADS MAN TO SIDE OF SON BADLY INJURED

A story appearing recently in a Morristown, Tenn., paper concerning "man's best friend" aids young master had more than usual interest to Mrs. A. Antel, 831 E. Lafayette avenue. The article told of a dog leading aid to his badly wounded master, Raymond Childress.

Childress accidentally shot himself while hunting. Three times Childress' dog ran from the scene of the accident where Childress lay wounded, to the plant where the young man was working, and finally succeeded in attracting the parent to his son. The father then took his son to a physician who dressed a serious wound in the youth's hip.

The young man is Mrs. Antel's nephew.

T. N. Bush of Murrayville was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.
